

Le mur des je t'aime

Image for the weekly letter for Sunday, April 13, 2025, no. 11.

Quote:

"In bringing to life words that would otherwise remain on walls. 'I love you' must always be given a voice which then translates into how we live: in encouraging looks, in outstretched hands, in listening without judgment, in caring for our earth..."

Love always finds a creative way to express itself—a heart drawn on the wall, a picture for mom, a card for someone who is ill. All are expressions of the same love.

What a wonderful feeling when Marten van de Wal begins his weekly letter with "Beloved person" and then says he means both you and me.

The image shows a drawn heart on a natural stone wall. "Eternal love," solid as a rock, with love as the cement between one person and another.

Warm regards on behalf of the Beeldengroep,
Frank H. Huisman

Image: Image by R.B. Calé via Unsplash (<https://unsplash.com/photos/a-blue-rock-with-a-hole-in-it-8klGvJzXdg4>)

Vragen en reacties? / Questions or remarks ? beeldengroep@apgen.nl