

How do I relate to the earth?

Image for weekly letter 2025, nr. 26

Explanation Image

Explanation:

A world without bees would have serious consequences for our food supply, biodiversity and the ecosystem as a whole.

Many crops, including vegetables, fruit, nuts, coffee and cocoa, depend on bees for pollination, which would cause them cultivation to decline sharply or even become impossible. The natural balance would also be disrupted, as bees are crucial for the reproduction of many plants, which in turn affects other animals and the entire food chain.
